

A dimensional cross-over event has occurred, and 5 heros from 5 universes have been scattered to random planets with random ships, technologies and personal effects. After a harrowing, fan-fiction worthy journey, each was able to reach the dimensional nexus to return to their proper place. Using the following clues, figure out which hero had what, where they started, and the order in which they reached the dimensional nexus

1. The hero on Serenity (who was not Turanga Leela) did not use the Tylium Engine or the Nuclear Core
2. The hero with the Coffee arrived at the nexus immediately before Starbuck (who was not captaining the Viper) and immediately after the hero captaining the Voyager
3. Mal was not the first hero to reach the nexus, nor was he immediately after the hero from Shadow (who was also not the first)
4. The first hero to the nexus was the one with the Wrist Lojackimator but was not the hero from the Alpha Quadrant (who was captaining the Planet Express), nor were they using Wibbly-Wobbly-Timey-Wimey
5. The Doctor (who arrived at the nexus immediately after Janeway) did not have the Dog Tags (which were in the possession of the hero from Gallifrey)
6. The hero captaining the Viper (who had the Coffee, but was not second to the nexus) arrived immediately before the Sonic Screwdriver user, and sometime after Janeway (who captained the Tardis, but did not have the Dog Tags)
7. The five heros are: The Doctor (who did not have the Dark Matter Accelerator); the third hero to the nexus (who was not captaining the Planet Express); the one with the Sonic Screwdriver; the one from Caprica (who was not Leela), and the one with wibbly-wobbly-Timey-Wimey
8. When Mal took Voyager to the nexus, he got his revolver back from a hero who'd already arrived, and the hero with the Nuclear Core was also already there.
9. The hero from Gallifrey arrived at the nexus sometime before the one captaining the Viper (who happend to be fourth) and sometime after the Tylium Engine user
